
"Newspaper of the North", July 17, 1992

Police investigating false Altink

- An Amsterdam detective looks at some of the 31 paintings that were taken up Monday at the Beilense painter and collector Cor van L [REDACTED] Van L [REDACTED], on Monday at his home in Holthe (to call) was Arrested, suspected of trafficking in forgeries of the work of the Groningen Ploeg painter Altink. The Amsterdam detective is trying to find out if Van L [REDACTED] painted the canvases themselves. In the middle of the "Nude" that long without signature roamed at auctions in the North, but now bears the signature Altink. The second suspect, the 22 year old RH (22), has now been released. He was only peripherally involved in the affair. © Reuters